Maximilian Harden says the ex-Kaiser should have been a showman.

He was in the sense that he "showed" all he had; but the Allies stayed to the concert and broke up the show.

WHEAT PRICE STANDS

IN 1919.

Lever Act Effective, Regardless of Peace, Until June 1, 1919.

The Food Administration has announced that the guaranteed price for the 1919 wheat crop stands under the terms of the Lever act, under which the Food Administration is operating. It was explained that the President's proclamation of Sept. 2, stated that the "producers of wheat produced within the United States for the crop of 1919" were to receive the price set forth in it, $2.26 per bushel at Chicago, and also that the end of the war or the proclamation of peace did not in any way affect this guarantee.

The guarantee for the 1919 wheat crop expires June 1, 1920.

FEW EXECUTIONS IN ARMY

None for Purely Military Offenses, General Crowder Reports.

Not a single member of the American Army has been put to death since the beginning of the war because of the commission of a purely military offense, Major General Crowder, Judge Advocate General, states in his annual report to Secretary Baker.

The report shows that 12,357 officers and men were brought before general court-martial, of whom 10,873, or 88 per cent., were convicted. More than half the charges against officers were listed under three heads: "Absent without leave, drunkenness, and conduct unbecoming an officer."

Convictions of enlisted men for desertions, the General said, were actually less than in the previous years, although the strength of the army had increased many fold.

The report shows that one enlisted man was tried and convicted of "being a spy," and that 773 men were convicted of sleeping on post.—N. Y. Times.

Christmas Savings Club.

The Landis Christmas Savings Club of Traders Bank has received its Christmas checks to the amount of $21,320, an increase over last year of $1,836. With Baby Bonds and Thrift Stamp campaigns throughout the year this record shows something of the capacity of the community for saving. It ought to be largely increased during the coming year.

Teachers Postpone Meeting.

On account of the continued prevalence of the epidemic of influenza in many parts of the state the executive committee of the Missouri State Teachers' Association has decided to postpone the meeting of the Association which was to have been held in St. Louis, December 26-28, 1918, according to announcement from the office of the Secretary, E. M. Carter, at Columbia. The executive committee will meet soon at which time it will determine the date for the meeting of the Association. The committee is deeply grateful for the fine co-operation shown by the school people, including the editors, of the state, in the great work of the association.

Landis Christmas Savings Club enrollment for the coming year will begin December 16, at Traders Bank.

IN STYLE TRULY DEMOCRATIC

How the President and Mrs. Wilson Took Their Outing on Those Gasless Sundays.

On gasless Sundays, when the president and Mrs. Wilson went driving, Washington witnessed an unusual spectacle. Ordinarily the president drives in an automobile, followed by two motorcycle policemen and another automobile filled with secret service men. On a gasless Sunday the procession was made up as follows:

The president and Mrs. Wilson in an open landau, behind a fine team of horses.

The two motorcycle men riding bicycles.

A handsome electric brougham, containing two secret service men.

An old-fashioned "sea-going" hack, drawn by a pair of veteran livery stable boys, which contained the remainder of the secret service men.

When they climbed hills, the horses attached to the presidential carriage walked at a dignified pace, while the two policemen on bicycles hitched behind on either side to save themselves the labor of pedaling. It is described as a motley and democratic cavalcade, particularly that part of it which brought up the rear.

IN SMART SOCIETY

Mrs. B.—She says her husband is not a good provider.

Mrs. W.—He isn't?

Mrs. B.—He loses so much at poker that she has to curtail her bridge playing.

WROTE MANY POPULAR SONGS.

Mrs. Hannah J. Winner, widow of Septimus Winner, composer of "Listen to the Mocking Bird" and 100 other popular old songs, is dead in Philadelphia. She was ninety-one years old.

"Sep" Winner, as he was familiarly known, for many years was the proprietor of a music store in Philadelphia. He did not realize what a musical gem he had produced in the "Mocking Bird." He sold it to publishers for $5 and in a few years it yielded them something like $250,000.

THE RAINBOW.

It is a good thing that there is no difference between salutes. If there were—if a general staff officer were entitled to one kind and an artillery officer to another—we should be due for a long course of study in the new overseas cap piping system.

As it is, all we have got to do is to remember that if the piping is dark blue, gray, yellow with scarlet threads; anything like that, the wearer is entitled to a salute.

Incidentally, in all this new color scheme, we mourn the absence of that staunch old American favorite—silver threads among the gold.—Paris Stars and Stripes.

THE GREATER ATTRACTION.

"Taking much interest in politics nowadays?"

"No. I find it hard to keep my mind on a man running for office while General Pershing and his boys are running as hard as they can toward Berlin."

FORTUNATE ENCOUNTER.

"Did you carry any war workers downtown with you?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Chuggins; "and a good job it was. I got a couple of 'em on board just in time for them to help me repair a blow-out and replace the tire."

THE DIFFERENCE.

"Are they driving any more nails in Hindenburg's statue?"

"No; they've stopped that and taken to hammering Hindenburg."

—O—

Alexander Bolivar Slusher.
